Can girls be heroes too?

English in Australia
Issue 85 (Sep 1988)

Stockwell, Charlotte¹

Abstract: One of the books I enjoy taking with Year Nines is The White Mountains by John Wyndham. For those not familiar with the story, it's set in the future on an Earth where a master race known as the Tripods has established dominance and reduced the human race to pre industrial status while kept subservient by the implanting of metal caps which prevent rebellion. Three boys join together and travel across the European continent to join with a band of resistance fighters.
