

On moral confidence and moral belief from the perspective of moral changes

ZENG Guang-le;College of Marxim,Fujian Agriculture And Forestry University

The three moral concepts including moral confidence,moral belief and moral changes are explained. The correlation between moral confidence and moral changes should be firmly held based on the moral changes. The focus of moral belief should be moral value,moral belief and moral changes. The moral confidence should be that with the spirit of self criticism,keeping pace with the times and of openness and moral changes. The handling the relationship among the three aspects can we adapt to moral development and construction in the reform and building socialist moral system.
