Abstract

Statistics from the United States Department of Education reveal that students in the United States lack foreign language proficiency. Programs at the elementary level are the most successful model for students to become proficient in a foreign language, they must have a clear curriculum. West Ottawa Public Schools recently began a Spanish immersion program. Spanish reading curriculum. An evaluation of research reveals that the curriculum created for West Ottawa must capitalize on the fact that Spanish is a syllabary language and is an orthographically regular language. However, must be taught through a whole language approach that moves beyond that is meaningful, integrated, and standards-based.
