Abstract: Tanjore painting, also known as, Thanjavur Oviyam is a major form of classical South Indian painting from the town of Thanjavur in Tamil Nadu, India. The paintings of Thanjavur have travelled a long way, from the fresco paintings of the Chola Dynasty, to the wall hangings of today. The goal of this project is to perform an in depth study of Thanjavur Paintings art and then coming up with innovative jewelry designs. The initial research conducted was secondary research, which focused on understanding the history, materials and the technique used in the painting, the current status of the craft and finalizing on what innovative product could be made out of it. It also focused on understanding of a similar art in terms of jewelry. The next stage of research focused on understanding the current trends in jewelry around the world. The research, thus, is inclined towards developing unique jewelry out of these paintings through design exploration.
