Learning and teaching with cultural stories

Practical Literacy: The Early and Primary Years

Volume 21 Issue 2 (Jun 2016)

Phillips, Louise

Abstract: I love stories. And so, I have been gathering and telling stories across the globe since I commenced my career in early childhood education in the late 1980s. Stories have consistently been the central focus of my teaching practice. I teach through stories. Not any story at any time. Each story with which I teach is carefully selected and crafted to address learning needs and interests at that point in time. I look to a story for the message it gives.
