Book : Guide to the dissection of the dog 2004 No.Ed.6 pp.xiv + 378 pp.

Abstract : This book contains diagrams throughout its text on the body parts of the dog, which are essential for the learning of basic mammalian structures. This 6th edition has some additional illustrations and changes on 57 plates. This guide emphasizes essential anatomical knowledge for a veterinary curriculum and includes sections on the neck, the thoracic limb, the head, nervous system, skeletal and muscular systems, the pelvic limb and pelvic limb. Descriptions are based on the dissection of embalmed and injected adult dogs of mixed breeds. Anatomical terms used are those that are used in the Nomina Anatomica Veterinaria (4th edition). This book would be of use to veterinarians and students of veterinary medicine.
