Author Affiliation : Department of Animal Science, Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon

Book : Basic animal nutrition and feeding. 1988 pp.viii + 472 pp.

Abstract : The third edition of this comprehensive but readily accessible book is intended for students and others interested in the principles and application of animal nutrition. The book is well laid out with many useful tables and diagrams, and the bibliographies at the end of each chapter have been at least partly updated since the previous edition. The book is in 3 parts - introductory (the concept of and background to current knowledge, methods of analysis, the gastrointestinal tract, and measurement of nutrient utilization and requirements); nutrient metabolism (water, proteins, amino acids, carbohydrates, lipids, energy metabolism, macro- and micro-minerals minerals, fat-soluble and water-soluble vitamins, feed additives and growth and factors affecting nutrient intake); and applied animal nutrition (feeding factors affecting feed intake, feeds, feed preparation and diet formulation). page appendix with tables of feed composition and nutrient requirements.
